Units 9–10

[Track 6]

A Listen to the conversations. Write always, usually, often, sometimes, hardly ever, or never in the correct places. You won't use all of the words.

1.

THERESA: How about hamburgers and fries for lunch?

STEVE: Hmm. I don't usually eat hamburgers, Theresa. And I never eat fries. I think they're bad for you.

THERESA: Well, what do you want, Steve?

STEVE: I want a salad and some fruit.

THERESA: You always eat salad and fruit for lunch!

STEVE: I know, but I like it!

2.

AMY: Hello.

MAN: Hey, Amy. Do you want to go to dinner on Thursday?

AMY: Sure, but I work late on Thursdays, so I often eat late.

MAN: That's OK with me. Why do you work late on Thursdays?

AMY: I leave early on Fridays to take a class, so I need to get a lot of work done on Thursdays. I sometimes take work home with me, too.

MAN: Do you work on the weekends?

AMY: No, I never work on the weekends. I usually study!

3.

WOMAN: Do you want a cup of coffee, Frank?

FRANK: Yes, please.

WOMAN: Just a minute. . . . Here's your coffee.

FRANK: Thanks. . . . Oh, um, it has sugar in it. I never put sugar in my coffee!

WOMAN: I'm sorry, Frank. I'll get you another cup.

FRANK: Thanks.
